In the discharge of this responsibility, the WPO is also responsible for ensuring the protection of employees (and others) who have made, in good faith, a disclosure of Improper Conduct and to ensure such persons are not subject to any Detrimental Conduct as a consequence.

Any correspondence, phone calls or emails received by any employee or officer from an internal or external recipient which may be regarded to contain allegations of Improper Conduct should be referred to the WPO in the first instance and should not be disclosed or otherwise shared with any other person unless directed by the WPO.

The WPO may be contacted confidentially at: whistleblowerprotectionofficer@mondialevgl.com.

6. PwC Hotline

If a Whistleblower is not comfortable disclosing Improper Conduct or Detrimental Conduct to the WPO, the Whistleblower may make the disclosure to the hotline, which is operated externally, securely and confidentially by PwC (Price Waterhouse Coopers).

A disclosure to the PwC hotline may be provided on an anonymous basis, or on the basis that the Whistleblower's identity is disclosed to PwC only and kept confidential from Mondiale VGL, but it would assist in any subsequent investigation of the Disclosure if the identity of the individual is disclosed at the time of making the Disclosure.

8. Investigation of disclosures of Improper Conduct

Investigations into disclosures of Improper Conduct will be conducted by the WPO or by an appropriate person appointed by the Chairperson of the Mondiale VGL board for this purpose. In the interests of objectivity and the perception of objectivity, the WPO may (but is not required to) engage an external investigator in relation to an investigation, particularly where the investigation concerns allegations of serious Improper Conduct.

The WPO or appointed investigator will then conduct an investigation into the Improper Conduct. The objective of such an investigation is to locate evidence that either substantiates or refutes the claims made in the report.

All investigations will be conducted in accordance with the principles of "natural justice". This means that investigations will be conducted without bias and all parties will be given adequate notice of meetings to discuss the issues raised and have time to prepare. All parties will be given the opportunity to be heard and will have the right to representation.

If the WPO is satisfied that the Improper Conduct has occurred, the WPO will make a recommendation, depending on the circumstances of the Improper Conduct, to either the Group CEO or the Chairperson of the Mondiale VGL board as to the action that should be taken.

If the WPO is not satisfied that the Improper Conduct has occurred, the WPO will provide a report of the findings of the investigation, depending on the circumstances of the Improper Conduct, to either the Chief People Officer, the Group CEO or Chairperson of the Mondiale VGL Board as appropriate, who may take action that may be regarded as appropriate in the circumstances.

False reporting by a person purporting to be a Whistleblower
